

Our Wedding Day

*On this special day, October 18th, 2008, Robert Ingle and Kourtney Leinenbach married a friend;
Exchanging vows of faith, hope, and love, with a life-long promise to always mend.
However, this romantic journey was conceived long before Bob and Kourtney were fully grown;
The birth was May 9th ('75) and October 19th ('83) when they arrived in this world alone.
Butch, Sandy, Rick, & Jo Ann, parents living a typical life with joy, laughter, and tears;
Was it destiny for them to produce a boy and girl who would not meet for years?
Raised in Tell City, Indiana, this trail between them was familiar and quite simple to navigate;
Makes one ponder how often Bob and Kourtney crossed paths in their search for a soul mate.
In June of 1998, family intervention brought them together and created their initial sparks;
Courting began just two weeks later, both hoping to impress and receive positive marks.
Eight years and engaged to tie the knot, did Bob & Kourtney think this decision through?
After thoughts and consideration, of a world without the other, what else could they do?
Today we celebrate the union of Mr. & Mrs. Ingle, a moment we will always commit to memory;
How could we forget "Two Hearts Becoming One" in the presence of God, friends, and family?
Exciting, new adventures lie ahead as Bob & Kourtney make plans for their next chapter and verse;
A script they will write together, in the face of life's challenges, and do so, for better or worse.
The key to happiness simply requires the commitment to be a supportive husband and wife.
May Bob and Kourtney always put forth this effort in their quest to enjoy a most wonderful life!*
